

HOPSON IGNORES SENATE CALL, CITED FOR CONTEMPT; DISAPPEARS AGAIN AFTER LEAVING HOUSE PROBERS

Ethiopia Demands League Curb Italy, Pleads for Arms

Sharp Note to Geneva Asks: "Is It Real Neutrality To Deny Us Munitions and Permit Duce To Speed Manufacture?"

PLOT TO 'DELIVER' ETHIOPIA CHARGED

Lloyd George Declares France, Britain Betraying African Kingdom Into Mussolini's Hands.

GENEVA, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Ethiopia dispatched a fervent appeal to the League of Nations today to have many nations remove an arms embargo against her, asserting otherwise she faced "massacre" from Italy.

The joint appeal and protest was placed before the League secretary general by Tecla Hawari, Ethiopian minister to France, acting upon instructions of his government.

It called Italy "all powerful" and Ethiopia "weak and pacific."

Notwithstanding the resumption of arbitration procedure in conformity with the council's decision on August 3, said the missive, "the royal Italian government is continuing to send troops and ammunition into eastern Africa. It is ceaselessly manufacturing arms and implements of war with the solemnly avowed intention of using them against the Ethiopian empire."

Real Neutrality?

"There is no manufacture in Ethiopia, either public or private, of arms or munitions of war. The imperial Ethiopian government today finds it absolutely impossible to obtain means of defense outside its own frontier. Wherever it attempts to obtain them it meets with prohibitions of exports and embargoes."

Is that real neutrality? Is it just? Will the council remain unmoved in the face of this situation which is revolting to all? Will it allow this unequal combat to continue between two members of the League of Nations, one of which is all powerful and in a position to employ, and declares it is employing, all its resources in preparing for aggression, while the other, weak and pacific and mindful of its international undertakings, is deprived of means of organizing the defense of its territory and its very existence, both of which are threatened?

"Will the council assume the responsibility in the eyes of the world for allowing these preparations to

Laurence Stallings Sees War in Africa

Laurence Stallings, distinguished news writer famous for his war play, "What Price Glory?" and for his motion picture, "The Big Parade," who is on his way to Ethiopia for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance, has paused in Paris to complete the preparations for the news and picture expedition he heads. Here is his first dispatch.

BY LAURENCE STALLINGS, PARIS, Aug. 14.—(By Wireless)—Premier Laval of France, and Anthony Eden, of Great Britain, were locked in a room all day today trying to contrive a compromise that would avert war between Italy and Ethiopia.

While they were conferring, the cameramen of our crowd were out buying a new type of gas mask. It is not that we news and news picture men have no hope that Laval and Eden will succeed in their effort to preserve peace. Everybody must hope they will, because, as both have declared, a breach of the peace in Ethiopia, will shake the foundations of peace everywhere.

But even while this peace conference is meeting in Paris, both Premier Mussolini, of Italy, and Emperor Haile Selassie, of Ethiopia, are prepared for the worst, and your correspondent is advising his cameramen to do likewise. It would be presumptuous on my part to be more optimistic than the parties immediately concerned.

Both Laval and Eden are mute

700 Merchants From Southeast Attend Banquet and Style Revue.

Atlanta definitely showed itself as the mecca for merchants throughout the southeast, when last night 700 of them from Georgia and neighboring states assembled on the Ansley hotel roof for the style revue which 42 Atlanta clothing houses sponsored for Style and Market Week.

There were 300 more merchants at the revue, dinner and floor show than were expected by officials, for many poured into Atlanta late yesterday afternoon.

NAZI DRIVE IN AFRICA IS REPORTED THWARTED

League Mandate Commission Records Disclose Action on Campaign.

GENEVA, Aug. 14.—(P)—League of Nations records disclosed today that the Union of South Africa took steps to prevent a German nazi campaign in southwest Africa.

The records are part of the proceedings of the mandate commission which is concerned with the former German colony in southwest Africa now under mandate to the Union of South Africa. The territory is known as "Southwest Africa," formerly German South west Africa. A mandate was established December 17, 1920.

A representative of the Union of South Africa told the mandate commission that a nazi campaign directed from Germany had asked the German position in the territory to pledge his allegiance to the leaders in Germany."

He said that because of this nazi activity, non-German settlers in the region had started a movement to have the territory incorporated in the union as a fifth province, an act which would be tantamount to its annexation.

The union informed the League of Nations that such action would not be permitted.

Visitors Not Allowed To Disembark at Leros as Fortress Is Established.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(P)—A Reuters' (British) News Agency dispatch from Athens said today that the Italian-owned Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean Sea have been placed under martial law with a severe blockade in force. The island of Leros has been converted into a fortress.

Visitors are not allowed to disembark at Leros, but are forced to go to Rhodes, where all are subjected to a close scrutiny.

Private houses on the islands have been requisitioned for hospital service in the militarization program.

All motor vessels also have been requisitioned.

U. S. AGENTS ENTER THEFT RING PROBE

Transportation of Autos Across State Line Is

Federal Offense.

Federal authorities yesterday became active in an investigation of the activities of an automobile ring, said to be one of the biggest yet to operate in the southeast, uncovered by Atlanta detectives.

Arrests here and in Miami Tuesday morning "cracked" the ring, said to have operated here since July 1, detective said. Arthur Guest, 31, of 688 Linwood, was arrested here and booked under suspicion charges while detectives probed deeper into the gang's work.

Detectives A. B. McNaughton and

G. F. Barrett said the ring operated with a complete fictitious dealer setup, taking the cars here, issuing fake bill-of-sale and sending the cars to Florida where ownership certificates were obtained and the cars offered for sale.

Government agents are probing the interstate angle of the dealing of the gang, it was said, since transportation of a stolen automobile across state lines is a federal offense.

TARVER UPHOLDS AAA IN SPEECH TO HOUSE

Georgia Representative Doubts Constitutionality of Parts of Bill.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—While condemning certain features of the pending bill amending the Agricultural Adjustment Act and casting doubt on the constitutionality of some of its provisions, Representative Malcolm C. Tarver, of Georgia, in a vigorous speech on the floor of the house today, upheld the legislation and declared the administration's program had accomplished more than anything previously proposed in the rehabilitation of agriculture.

At the time he told the house he was heartily in favor of continuing the present system of processing taxes, which he said, were "largely responsible for the existing improvement" in farm conditions.

"There are many features of the bill which are of very doubtful constitutionality," Tarver said. "It's authors do not seem to have heard of the Schechter case and apparently have only dimly remembered the constitution of the United States in a general way.

"Despite the judgment of many good lawyers to the contrary, I am hopeful that the constitutionality of the processing taxes may be upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States. In my judgment, the processing tax and the payments of benefits to the farmers from its proceeds have constituted the main benefit received by agriculture under the current program. I am not willing to abandon this feature of the program. The continuance of the Bankhead act and the Schechter case, which may be decided separate and apart from the question of continuing to the farmer benefits collected from the consumer upon the same principle that aid has been accorded throughout the years to our manufacturing interests through the medium of the tariff. A combination of the two has been adopted for wheat, hogs, corn and many other commodities, producers of which appear to have benefited from the pending program to far greater extent than the cotton farmer.

"I believe that a continuance of the benefits by the farmer from processing taxes is necessary and fair to that great class of our people."

BLUE EAGLE'S DEATH BRINGS WAGE CUTS

13,000 Employers Reported To Have Reverted to Old Standards.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—(P)—

NRA observers have reported to headquarters that some 12,000 to 13,000 American employers have cut wages or increased hours or both since the old Blue Eagle met its death.

The Blue Eagle was official as yet and authorities decline to attach significance to them publicly on the ground that too few companies have been covered and that more time is needed to develop any trends fully.

The reports say the predominant type of departure from prevailing conditions is hour cutting. NRA has lists of some 8,000 to 9,000 employers who are declared to have increased hours since June 1. Whether these employers increased weekly wages accordingly was not shown by the lists.

The number of hour increases listed was substantially greater in July than in June, and the week-by-week

tabulation in July showed a comparatively steady gain in this type of action.

It was said that the bulk of the wage cutting and hour increasing is among smaller firms.

GEORGIA CROPS SHOW IMPROVED CONDITION

Favorable Weather and Rain Indicate Increased Yields.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 14.—(P)—Estimates released today by the Georgia Crop Reporting Service indicate the state's tobacco yield this year will show an average increase of about 10,000 pounds per acre as compared with 1934.

With tobacco acreage approximately 37 per cent above last year's, a total production of 56,580,000 pounds is expected, against 31,951,000 pounds last year.

Favorable weather conditions with the result most of the state in July improved prospects for most field crops, the report indicated. While corn, oats and hay crops were expected to exceed last year's yields, a decrease in wheat, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes and peaches was forecast.

Corn Shows Gain.

On August 1 the reported condition of corn was 77 per cent of normal, compared with 66 per cent one year ago. This indicates a yield per acre of 11.2 bushels and production of 43,085,000 upon the 3,848,000 acres estimated for harvest, the reporting service computed.

Georgia's cotton last year yielded 10 bushels per acre, with total production of 39,270,000 bushels from 3,927,000 acres.

Dry weather lasting until the peach shipping season was well started was held responsible for the decrease of that crop.

Probable production of 5,376,000 bushels was indicated for the "small crop," which showed "Marketing of the commercial crop was practically over on report date with a movement of slightly more than 8,400 cars."

The oat crop for Georgia was estimated to be 11,422 bushels this year, compared with 6,384 in 1934. The corn crop was estimated to yield 473 tons, compared with 411 in last year; Irish potatoes, 1,102 bushels, compared with 1,360 in 1934; sweet potatoes, 6,720 compared with 7,120 in 1934.

The reporting service estimated the state's cotton crop this year at 19,190,000 bales compared with 16,600,000 bales grown last year. The condition of the crop was set at 73 per cent normal with an estimated yield of 220 pounds per acre on 2,215,000 acres planted this year.

CAMPMEETING TO OPEN SOON AT SHINGLEROOF

PRAYER DAY CALLED BY W. C. T. U. LEADER

Appeal for Election of 'Dry' Officers Will Be Made.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 14.—(P)—On August 29 members of the W. C. T. U. throughout the nation will pray for the nomination and election in 1935 of officials of local, state and federal administrations who owe no allegiance to the liquor traffic or its allies.

Miss M. Frances Meaders Burghard, state W. S. T. U. editor, issued the official "call to prayer" here on behalf of Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, Illinois president; and Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, Georgia, director of the evangelistic department of the union.

The nation-wide prayer, Mrs. Burghard said, will be "for the spiritual rebirth of our country, the rekindling of the civic conscience; for millions of youth forced to be idle, now subjected to the allurements of 400,000 relegalized liquor-selling places; for thousands of employees of the liquor business, most of them youths, many under voting age, whose livelihood now depends upon the money taken from victims of the drink trade."

It can be made profitable.

"It indicates in a definite way that farm dairying, where cream is sold to the creamery, can be made profitable and a good system of feeding and management."

Fitch pointed out also the increased feeding of dairy farm lands, and the consequent indirect return through soil-building.

J. P. McMaster head of the dairy department of Clemson Agricultural College, outlined a system of marketing he advised for this territory.

"Dairy farmers of the southeast should first cater to supplying the fresh whole milk market," he said. "The next market is to supply sweet cream for table consumption and for ice cream manufacture, and the use of the resulting skim milk for the manufacture of cultured buttermilk and soft cheese.

On the other hand, he believes in this area of poor soils, where the soil is naturally compact with the middle west in the manufacture of butter under a system which requires that the skim milk be fed to farm livestock.

All the milk produced in this area should be marketed so it can be used for human food.

"It is a much more expensive an enterprise to operate dairy farms in the southeast where a majority portion of the resulting production must be fed back to farm livestock."

Another address dealing with cattle men's problems was made by Dr. W. E. Dove, of Atlanta, director of the Georgia branch of the Internal Revenue department.

The hospital reported his condition was "much improved," although he still is "very sick." Mrs. Rivers is with him in Valdosta.

CAMPMEETING TO OPEN SOON AT SHINGLEROOF

MONDOUNGH, Ga., Aug. 14.—(P)—The Shingleroof camp meeting, an annual event in Hephzibah, began for a second day yesterday.

On August 16 visiting ministers will speak at 11 a. m. on Sunday, August 18, and several thousand persons are expected to assemble on the grounds to hear their addresses.

The camp ground got its name from the fact that it was one of the first in the state to have a meeting place with a shingle roof.

MAYOR CHAPMAN LEADS IN DUBLIN ELECTION

DUBLIN, Ga., Aug. 14.—(P)—M. A. Chapman tonight appeared certain of another term as mayor of Dublin after more than two-thirds of the balloting in today's municipal election had been counted.

With approximately 475 votes tabulated out of a total of 631 cast, Mayor Chapman led his only opponent, Carl K. Nelson, Dublin attorney, by about 150. The final count was not expected to change that standing.

One of the city's four aldermen were nominated without opposition in the fourth ward race Dr. M. C. Clayton's incomplete vote nearly doubled the total of his two rivals, Alderman W. H. Shuman and Dr. Horace A. Etheridge.

GINNERS HEAR RULES DISCUSSED AT ROME

ROME, Ga., Aug. 14.—(P)—Cotton ginners from throughout portions of northwest Georgia and northeast Alabama met here today and heard L. R. Griner, of Atlanta, chief of the processing division of the Internal Revenue office, discuss changes in regulations which he said were calculated to eliminate abuses experienced last year.

The state attorney general has agreed to issue 50 per cent exemption for growers signed up last year, beginning in south Georgia, he said. Later the other 45 per cent will be issued.

Ginners do pay bond premiums immediately, as tags cannot be sent those whose bonds have been canceled.

A resolution was adopted asking Secretary Wallace, of the Department of Agriculture, not to require growers to go to the county agent for additional gin certificates, but to authorize ginners to issue their own certificates for resale to growers.

Other speakers on the program included H. F. Yargan, E. M. Reese, A. J. Cochran and Kenneth Elliott, of Rome, and A. N. Tumlin, of Cave Spring, who presided.

Dr. McPheeters had taught at the seminary from 1888 until his retirement from the faculty as professor emeritus in 1933, ending a long service in the Presbyterian church field. He began his fine church work in Hamden-Sidney, Va.

Dr. McPheeters was in the home mission field in Virginia when he accepted the call to the Columbia Seminary in Decatur.

He is survived by three sons, Dr. S. B. McPheeters, J. C. McPheeters and T. S. McPheeters of Charlotte, and a daughter, Mrs. Frank W. Jar-

3,400 TO BE EMPLOYED
ON CHATHAM PROJECTS

Work for 3,400 laborers in Savannah and Chatham county will begin soon, it was said yesterday by A. S. Goebels, city engineer of Savannah, who visited WPA and PWA offices in Atlanta yesterday.

Most of the men are working for the city now, Mr. Goebels said, and Chatham county soon will launch projects to employ the rest.

Passage of a bond issue in Savannah soon will start a program of sewer extensions, street paving and an airport project. Mr. Goebels called on J. Houston Johnston, Georgia PWA director, seeking information about the method of filing applications.

Dodd and Owens Both Claim
Alibis in Shooting of Peter Heath, Negro.

Oran E. Dodd and Ralph Owens, under indictment for the murder of Peter Heath Jr., negro, were made defendants in a $20,000 damage suit yesterday by Peter Heath Sr., as hearing on petitions for bond for Dodd and Owens was continued until 10 o'clock this morning by Judge Virlyn B. Moore in Fulton superior court.

Peter Heath Jr., was shot and killed August 1 on Garnett street near Central avenue, and police charged Dodd and Owens with the slaying, claiming they were shooting at another man in a liquor war.

Attorneys produced eight witnesses yesterday who testified Dodd was in the office of the Atlanta Beer Distributing Company, of which he was president, at the hour of the killing a quarter of a mile away.

Owens and his lawyers today will seek to prove he was on Highland avenue at the hour of the slaying. W.

Building Fund Sought.
AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 14. (AP)—Richmond county has applied to the Public Works Administration for allotments totaling almost $200,000 to continue the building program of the county school system.

R. Bentley, Owens' lawyer, said 25 witnesses would be summoned who will swear the accused man was miles from the scene of the shooting.

Sam D. Hewlett, J. C. Ewing and Frank Callaway represent Dodd. The petition of the two for bond are separate.

The father of the murdered negro declared in his suit that Dodd and Owens had been convicted many times for liquor operations and he alleged the Atlanta Beer Distributing Company is a "big whisky dealing place" of the U. S. T.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, representing the state, is protesting that bond be allowed either Dodd or Owens. He questioned Dodd's witnesses closely as to their knowledge of whiskey alleged to have been stolen from Dodd in a warehouse.

The state contends that Dodd and Owens were at Peter Heath Jr. when they were attempting to shoot Walter Jones, who is under indictment for a lottery offense. Boykin asserted the shooting was caused by a liquor war among the men. Jones was fired upon, it was said, as he and Miss Nell Stanford, an employee, were in a car on Garnett street. Heath was across the street and was struck by a stray bullet, according to officers.

Dodd said he was at his offices at the time and was supported by Keith Nix, office manager, and seven other witnesses who either work for him or for a near-by filling station.

They said he did not leave the office until 10:30 o'clock on the night of August 1, whereas the shooting took place at 9:30 o'clock.

Boykin said he would have at least 20 witnesses.

LABOR AND BONDS

The strong statement of A. Steve Nance, president of the Georgia Federation of Labor, emphasizing the vital necessity for modernization of the Atlanta sewage disposal system, reflects the universal support of the proposed bond issue to match federal funds available for this purpose.

Mr. Nance gives assurance that labor regards the sewers as an emergent matter, and one for which we shall be forced to pay if they are longer neglected, and the federation will do anything in its power in supporting any constructive and feasible program for elimination of the health menace, which it realizes."

The proposed co-operation between the city and federal governments in the construction of new sewer systems in the metropolitan area is not only a feasible program, but presents an opportunity by which the city can secure this urgently necessary improvement at less than a fifth its cost, the government having agreed to put up four dollars and a half for this purpose to every one dollar supplied by the city.

Mr. Nance feels that the government should give definite commitment to complete the work, once it is started, and that the work should be done under contract, but such details can be easily worked out.

A vast project of this kind, involving the expenditure of approximately $7,000,000, and involving the health of every resident of Atlanta and adjacent territory, should not be allowed to become involved in discussion of details.

The determination of such details can be left safely to the decision of the federal and city authorities and the committee of leading Atlantans named by authority of council to supervise the program to assure that the city takes advantage of the unusual opportunity now faced to secure a long-needed public project at a minimum cost.

The main objective, as pointed out by Mr. Nance, is the threat to the health of the community—a menace that is the most pressing problem now faced by the city.

There is not a block in the city in which every residence or business structure is not affected by the inadequate sewage disposal system, and this condition involves a threat to the health of every resident of the city, rich and poor, big and little.

No proposal has ever been advanced in the interest of Atlanta, more deserving the unanimous support of the public than the project to modernize the sewer systems, with four-fifths of the cost being borne by the Works Progress Administration and only one-fifth by Atlanta.

A Soap Box Derby racer at Akron struck a noted sports broadcaster, leaving him in a daze. And ready for another broadcast.

NOT A LAUGHING MATTER

Although Howard C. Hopson, president of the Associated Gas and Electric System, has adopted a jovial and laughing mood in making the appearance before the congressional investigating committees that he attempted to dodge, he will find that the American people do not regard the deliberate wrecking of sound and prosperous business organizations as a laughing matter.

It may be so to him, but it certainly is not to the many thousands of investors in the various operating companies which have fallen under the control of this financial octopus and which, as a result, have been looted of their resources, loaded down with debt and then cast aside.

It is not a laughing matter to widows and orphans to see their investment stock made practically worthless that the pockets of conscienceless financial barons might be lined with filched money.

It is no wonder that Mr. Hopson attempted to escape facing the music in Washington. The unscrupulous manipulations through which several of the victim companies of this holding company have been looted and wrecked may have been within the letter of the law, but they are of a nature that will be resented by every right-thinking American.

The day has passed when these financial wolves may look upon their exploits in gnawing to the bone sound and useful corporations, as a laughing matter.

GEORGIA AND LONG

It will not be surprising if Senator Long is a candidate for the democratic nomination for President, nor if, in the event of the renomination of President Roosevelt, he runs either as an independent or in alliance with some other candidate. The announcement to this effect has created little stir in national political circles.

His bolt from the party can scarcely be considered as a serious threat to its success in view of his claim that he will take with him the six southern states of Louisiana, Georgia, Texas, Florida, Mississippi and Arkansas.

If he is no better advised on conditions in the other five states listed than he is on the situation in Georgia, his announced candidacy is not even a good trial balloon.

He has no more chance of carrying Georgia than he has of carrying the Fiji Islands. He would not receive a handful of votes should he offer as a candidate in this state.

His effort to dictate to the voters of Mississippi has evidently been a flop, since he has announced his withdrawal from participation in the gubernatorial election to be held shortly in that state, stating that he would be the loser, whoever won. His boast that he will take Texas, Florida and Arkansas away from the democratic fold is equally as unfounded in fact.

So far as Georgia is concerned, it will be carried by Roosevelt, whatever the opposition. The farmers of the state, now receiving 12 cents a pound for cotton against half that much when the democratic administration took office, and 21 cents a pound for tobacco against 10 cents three years ago, will be slow to take a chance with another republican administration, or with any claptrap combination headed by Huey Long and other misguided brethren who are doing their best to throw stumbling blocks in the way of the democratic administration.

President Roosevelt will be renominated and re-elected by overwhelming majorities and the states listed by Long as those he will lead from the fold will head the process in re-electing Roosevelt.

World's Window

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Italy in Ferment.

ROME—The fury against Japan for mixing in the Italo-Ethiopian war has been reflected only in the blinding, unreasoning hatred against Abyssinia herself. Amongst the Duce's hysterical followers the war spirit is mounting to a white, livid fever-heat. Mussolini said once that Italy would either "expand or explode." That supreme hour of Napoleonic destiny is about to strike. For the moment of passion is seething in an ultra-dangerous atmospheric tension. The lid is battling ominously under the convulsive spuming of a million souls on fire. When that lid flies off, it may be the crack of doom of a civilization.

After an absence of two weeks I am now back at the change room in Rome and other Italian cities. Not an hour passes without a demonstration of tens of thousands of young men in the streets, clamoring, screaming, bellowing for war. "Duce, Duce, Duce, la parola alla canzone." Let the cannons talk! Enough deliberations! Enough negotiations! Death to the Negro! Death to the black African masters!

Nothing of what happens in Geneva can now prevent the Italians from marching into Abyssinia. The mass of blackshirts is like a loaded mine-bomb. Mussolini has pulled the pin. He must hurl it away or be torn to shreds himself, his and his regime. Not even the Duce can now put on the brakes. War is certain.

Fever in Rome.

The youth, Mussolini's blackshirt legions, are intoxicated with the idea of war. The supreme release of years of pent-up, unexpressed ardor is at hand. The sense of the last apparent, it is glory and conquest and loot and suffering and blood and death. The city which proclaimed Christ the King in a delirium of joy embraces the bloody idol of Moloch.

The blackshirts rise in clouds of incense to Mars, the god of war. And the figure of the pale Galilean recedes into the subterranean gloom of the catacombs Duce made.

Under my window swarms a band of youngsters, fifty thousand, a hundred thousand, do not know. The noise of the thousands of voices lost in the hush morning haze of the Pincio gardens. They carry streamers: "Death to the Mikado!" Down with the Japanese murderers!" "White people make a common front against the Yellow Peril!"

Their shouts are like the lowing of a tempest at sea. The old crystal chandeliers in my room tinkle softly like silver bells in response to the massing voices of the hordes. Massacres have dared to interfere in the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel. Japan must be punished. The blackshirts are beyond themselves with fury. "Duce, Duce, Duce, send the ships against Japan! Let the canons silence the Nipponese barbarians. Eternal! Eternal! Eternal!"

The Duce Deliberates.

The noon papers announce that three hundred bombing planes are on the way to Africa. "We will bomb our way through the heathens!" Adds Abba: will be a heap of debris in the month! "The Negus will be buried under the bones of our own pride!" The black warriors will come back from the front to search the ruins for the fragments of their wives and children! "Rome is eternal. Glory to Rome! Her speech is a destroying fire . . . Duce, Duce, Duce, why delay? Why wait? Let the canons speak! Duce, do you hear us?"

Does he hear? In the hell of the Mammonedes, Mussolini sits over his charts. Generals go in and out of the Palazzo Venezia. The bayonets of the guard gleam in the golden sunlight that plays about Michelangelo's tomb of the Popes. The ochre faces of the square shimmers in a purple gleam. Slowly the hell of St. John Lateran tolls out the hours. Time fleets away imperceptibly, but the minutes count. Duce are you ready? Duce, have you made up your mind? Must this flame of ardor that burns out in the wastes of Abyssinia? Must these glorious children then perish for the idols of death?

Mussolini does not answer. Every hour the crowd tells you what occupies the son of the blacksmith of Predappio. "The Duce is on guard. The Duce telephones to Geneva. The Duce receives the British ambassador. The Duce orders the troops in Tripoli to the front." . . . Right in the midst of peace negotiations he orders another 100,000 men to the front. "Mussolini semper ragione!" (Mussolini is always right.)

TODAY'S YESTERDAYS.

August 15, 1789—Napoleon Bonaparte was born in an Italian when she was 19, the second of eight children. She lived to see all her eight upon thrones of Europe, and to observe their downfall.

Today's influence survives today in the United States—He established the legal structure of Louisiana. The Code Napoleon. And he remains the enduring benefactor of the food industries and the housewife; for he was directly responsible for the discovery that food could be kept and sealed in air-tight containers. As a general, one of his first concerns was the feeding of his armies.

THE WORLD WAR 20 YEARS AGO TODAY.

August 15, 1915—The British government began to do something never before attempted in all its history: to keep tab on each and every person in the United Kingdom. It is ordered on this date the registration of all between the ages of 15 and 65, to ferret out alien enemies and to prepare for the requisitioning of men for the army. Liberties which Britons had won in 100 centuries of struggle were suddenly swept away.

Same day, the German ambassador in Washington, Von Bernstorff, formally charged British merchants with having improperly flown the United States flag. The state department was well aware that various British ships were hiding under the United States flag to escape German submarines, and that this was one of the excuses German submarine commanders had for interfering with United States ships. But it didn't know what to do about it.

President Roosevelt will be renominated and re-elected by overwhelming majorities and the states listed by Long as those he will lead from the fold will head the process in re-electing Roosevelt.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

BY PAUL MALLON.

ECONOMIC INFLATION WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—A business inflation is coming, probably early next year. The sharpest economists here are convinced of it. They are so sure that they speak of it in an offhand manner as a certainty. In fact, the administration is making some preparations for it in accordance with the bank bill.

It will not be the kind that the congressmen are talking about—not government inflation. That has been going on for four years. It started with the first unbalanced budget.

The new turn will come when the demand for goods exceeds the supply, thus causing a precipitous rise in prices. There will be a rush for goods which cannot be stopped by existing cautious inventories. Prices will be bid up abnormally for whatever stocks exist.

With two and one-half billion dollars of excess reserves in federal reserve banks (August 9) to finance expansion of activity, you can see that the possibilities are quite lively.

KEY A gentle hint of what is coming lies behind the front page announcement by General Motors that it is spending $50,000,000 for plant expansion. Ford is supposed to be planning a similar expansion.

Unfortunately this is not true of all industry, or, in fact, any other industry at present. If it were, it would be the finale of the gloom era, because this phase of business activity is the single key to the unemployment problem. The bulk of the jobless is in durable goods industries. They are the men who make equipment for the manufacturers. They will never get back to work until manufacturers find demand warrants expansion.

ROUTINE The automobile makers found it out this summer. Their industry has been the first to recover. The reason is they decided to put out a better product at a cheaper price. The way the public gobbled up that product was beyond expectations. Production continued abnormally high into the summer season; late orders had to be rushed through for steel.

Next year the motor men are not going to be caught short that way. They are expanding.

A somewhat similar situation developed in summer clothing. Manufacturers underestimated demand; failed to manufacture enough goods to meet it. That is why fall goods are being advertised so early this year.

When industry generally encounters this situation, forces will be generated to bring on the economic price inflation. The best economists do not believe the time will come this fall, but they will bet on it for early next year.

SOFT PEDAL The tip is now being spread around that the stock market has overestimated its improvement. That plain appeared in an administration magazine this week.

The argument was advanced that fall improvement belongs to a past era when farmers did not receive their income until they marketed their crops. It is an inconsequential half truth. The great bulk of farm products still moves in the fall, although the New Dealers are passing out considerable money ahead of time.

PROSPECTS Most economic authorities expect a good autumn. The activity in machine tools and in residential construction is what is encouraging them.

Residential construction is still low, but increasingly active in every section of the country. For instance, it was about 34.7 per cent in 1934 as compared with 22 last year, 87 in 1929 and 126 in 1927 (the peak).

The administration is going to play up this phase of activity shortly. A stimulating ballyhoo will be made out of it. That is why Treasury Secretary Morgenthau recently brought down his friend, Peter Grimm, New York real estate expert, to co-ordinate the various New Deal housing units.

POWER The important hidden question behind the new bank bill is: Who is President Roosevelt going to appoint to the new Federal Reserve Board?

No one has an inkling. It is a certainty that there will be at least three new members. As there are no restrictions on the President, the identity of the men means far more than the new bank bill itself. He could appoint Senator Thomas or J. P. Morgan and give the bill one meaning or the opposite one.

STIRRING Last Monday the lethargic cabinet committee, which has been sleeping for weeks, was hastily called into session. Next day a second session was held. There is no question that the New Dealers read the Rhode Island election results.

Health Talk

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

Among the first things that people notice after beginning a salt-poor diet are a marked increase in urinary excretion for several days and often a decided decrease in the size of the hands, feet and ankles. . . . Obese patients ought willingly to adopt the salt-poor diet when they know that up to eight pounds of their weight may be lost by omitting salt from the food. My son, who lived on a salt-poor diet in college last year, found that his weight increased four pounds on a Sunday, but was reduced to normal by the time he was 14.

On July 14, for instance, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. McBryar, Mrs. E. J. McBryar Jr., of Smyrna, were here.

on file for several months.

"We have had 32 presidents of the United States," Talmadge said. "Since I have been old enough to remember, any statement from the President on matters of fact are never questioned.

The reason for this is that the dignity of the office makes it incum-be upon the President to check and double-check on the facts before they are released.

To say the least of it President

Roosevelt was a little careless in not checking on the facts of the Georgia situation before replying to the letter from Deen.

"By all rules of fair play the President should give a correction to the press from the White House."

WHITE HOUSE AND DEEN SILENT ON TALMADGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Neither the White House nor Representative Braswell Deen, of Georgia, had any comment to make on statements attributed to Governor Talmadge in Atlanta today calling on the President to admit error in charging that Georgia school funds had been diverted by the state administration to pay other obligations.

The President's statement on the school fund situation was included in a letter last week to Representative Deen, who previously had written the chief executive complaining of alleged discrimination against Georgia in the allocation of federal relief funds for salaries of school teachers.

Gov. Talmadge referred to the President's arrival of the school fund situation, already made public in Atlanta, did not reach the office of Mr. Deen until today and pending an opportunity to discuss the issues raised with FERA officials he asked to be excused from commenting. He is expected to refer the Governor's communication to the White House communication to the Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, who has refused to make further allocation for relief of unpaid Georgia teachers.

The product he proposed to manuvalue and nearly all purchasers of the certificates are said to be physideemeanor charges.

Not Federal Offense.

The commission is now investigating his career in Louisiana. All information they secured was turned over to the Georgia state attorney general, James Brown, of Atlanta.

Charles Mullins, examiner for the State Securities Commission, was in Cartersville investigating the case when the arrest was made last Monday. The Cartersville warrant, under which Brown was arrested, charges three separate offenses, all misdemeanors, under which, if convicted, he may receive sentences of one year in prison and $1,000 fine on each charge.

gate to the conference who is now on the way to Africa. It is anticipated they will offer Baron Aloisi some very considerable concessions—concessions of territory and moral concessions designed to let Italy withhold her fire without losing prestige.

I do not know—nobody knows—exactly what the conference will be.

There is talk of giving Italy a portion of Somaliland frontier through the Etiopian province of Ogaden—some millions of acres of uninhabitable desert —and also of instituting a regime of capitulations, such as Turkey enjoyed before the World War, enabling Italy to colonize certain regions of Etiopia.

These are concessions that would cost neither France nor England very much, as they are all at Etiopia's expense.

They seem, however, to be somewhat more than Etiopia is willing to give and considerably less than Italy.

So we are putting gas masks in the

to be settled in Etiopia than in Paris.

core of the dispute was over Ball's Ferry bridge, which MacDonald wanted built with the federal money but which Talmadge's board refused to include in its program. MacDonald said the bridge was used as a "smoke screen."

Federal authorities have no power to originate road programs, Castellow told the house, "but yet they have assumed to do that very thing by indication, which the law says they cannot do directly."

The Georgian said his state was called upon to build the $280,000 bridge, "and because they would not do it, Mr. MacDonald told the Governor of our state, 'you do not build it, we will.' We will not get it for the $10,000,000 that belongs not to the federal government but belongs to the state of Georgia."

Always Democratic.

Castellow said Georgia was the only state of the 48 which had never "gone republican," and added:

"We stood fast when all others had fled. Then at the same time, we are the only state that has the distinction of having our road allotment 'hung on a hook.'

Here Representative Tarver, of Dalton, Ga., arose to interpose that the money . . .

President Roosevelt had not replied to a letter signed jointly by all members of the Georgia house delegation asking him to eliminate the disputed Ball's Ferry project with the view to solving the highway problem.

Castellow said that on the bridge ruckus, MacDonald "got into a hole and will not admit it; he will not come out, and he will not let us out,"

The Georgia bill, with federal indebtedness of $20,000,000,000, when divided among the states, obligated Georgia by $600,000,000, whereas the state had outstanding bonds of only $42,780,000. Georgia bonds, he added, sell higher than those of New York, Illinois and California.

MacDonald has promised a federal action in the controversy this week.

Don't let Malaria tear you apart with its racing chills and burning fever. Trust no home-made or mere makeshift remedies. Take the medicine prepared especially for Malaria—Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

Before the vast law can swing into operation, President Roosevelt must name the social security board of three members to administer it. Many names have been mentioned in speculation, including Edwin A. White, secretary of the President's commission on social security law; John Billikopf, Philadelphia social worker, and Miss Josephine Roche, assistant secretary of the treasury. But there has been no confirmation.

Included in the law was the greatest single tax burden ever approved by congress. The graduated system of taxation for old age and unemployment was assessed at 6 per cent on employers' pay rolls after 1940, in addition to 3 per cent contributed by workers. It is estimated that by 1980, the national old age pension reserve fund alone will contain almost $16,000,000,000, or 18,000,000,000 more than the present national debt.

O'MAHONEY WINS
ONE-FALL BOUT;
SAUER IS HURT

Two Physicians Order
Pete Not To Return
After Severe Meet.

Danny O'Mahoney is still the wrestling champion.

After 26 minutes of wrestling last night at the ball park he started Pete Sauer on the first movement of the Irish whip. In this hold the opponent is hauled outward and then yanked sharply backward over the originator's shoulder.

Both men were wet with perspiration. Pete Sauer slipped from O'Mahoney's hands as a wet fish from the fisherman's hands and literally hurtled through the ropes and to the ground below.

He climbed back in and was banged to the canvas with another Irish whip and pinned.

ORDERED OUT.

Two physicians examined him, Dr. Charles W. Daniels and Dr. Sam Green, and both forbade him going back into the ring. He had a bad bruise on his right side, on the hips and was suffering severe pain.

O'Mahoney pleased most of the crowd. He puts on no acts such as we are accustomed to but the Irish boy has plenty of strength and his bridging was something the town hasn't seen in years.

The Irish Free State boy pleased the old country fans who went away saying he was the best wrestler in 20 years. The modern fans were a bit in doubt because he indulged in no slapping, burping, moaning or fist-fighting.

STOUT BOY.

The boy, who will be 23 years old next month, doesn't weigh more than 18. He has one of those kid faces. Nor does he look as if he weighed 225 pounds. But he does.

Pete Sauer said after the match he was the strongest man he'd met in years. Sauer and O'Mahoney were just getting going good when the accident occurred.

The opening bout saw Joe Cox and Drawn Ostovitch go to a 30-minute draw.

The largest crowd ever to attend a wrestling match in Atlanta saw the matches. It was estimated at 7,000. Governor Eugene Talmadge and his staff attended. Charley Renton did a good job refereeing.

HAMBLETONIAN FIELD OUTPACE BY GREYHOUND

Unbeaten Trotter Wins by Five Lengths at Goshen.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 14.—(UPI) Greyhound, a long, skinny horse owned by E. J. Baker, of St. Charles, Ill., today established himself as the greatest trotter since Peter Manning of the early twenties, by winning the Hambletonian, world's premier harness race.

The aptly named gray trotter won in straight heats and established a new record time for a Hambletonian winner.

It was a smashing victory for the form players and it delighted the crowd—nearly 40,000 which had made Greyhound such an overwhelming favorite that some of the bookies, shortly before the first heat, refused to accept further bets. The unofficial closing price was 2 to 5.

RUNAWAY.

Greyhound made it a runaway in the first heat, establishing a new record of 2:02 1/4 for a Hambletonian winner. The former best time for a single heat made by a Hambletonian winner was 2:02 1/2, set by Spencer in 1928.

The best time ever made for a mile in the Hambletonian was 2:01 1/4, made by Holly Rood Dennis in 1932, but the race that year was won by the trotter.

Greyhound was perfectly handled by Sen. Alvin, the veteran 30-year-old reinsman. He allowed Harper Hanover to set the pace at the start of

MIAMI MAYOR NAMED IN FRAUD INDICTMENT

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 14.—(UPI) The grand jury today indicted Mayor A. D. H. Fossey, of Miami, on a charge of obtaining property under false pretenses.

The aptly named gray trotter was in straight heats and established a new record time for a Hambletonian winner.

It was a smashing victory for the form players and it delighted the crowd—nearly 40,000 which had made Greyhound such an overwhelming favorite that some of the bookies, shortly before the first heat, refused to accept further bets. The unofficial closing price was 2 to 5.

HAAS TO MEET BARBER TODAY

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Aug. 14.—(UPI) Fred Haas Jr., of New Orleans, gave the old-timers a golf exhibition today as he put away his first two opponents in 23 holes of play today and became the favorite to retain his western junior championship.

The titleholder set a burning pace as he eliminated W. D. Decker, of Rye, N. Y., 7 and 6, in the first round and then turned in a 67 to come within a stroke of equaling the course record after he defeated Ralph Ackerman, of Chicago, in his second-round opponent, and 7.

In the quarter-finals tomorrow Haas will play Jerome Barber, young Jacksonville, Fla., priming company employee, who took the measure of Fred Lamb Jr., Detroit, conqueror of Fred Schaefer, Birmingham, Mich., medalist in the first round. Barber defeated Carl Hoff, Chicago, 1 up in the first round.

ROSS MEETS ALMAND FRIDAY

Black Jack Ross, the Chicago Greek and public enemy No. 1, will meet Son Almand, the Atlanta steel worker, at the Riverside arena, Friday night, in the main event on an all-star card.

Both Ross and Almand are men never to appear here, says he will defeat Almand in straight falls.

Joe Dillman, Toledo grappler and newcomer to this arena, has wrestled the sweltering crowd's thrill of life in Atlanta before and is one of the best grapplers ever to appear here. He will meet as his opponent, Young Daniels, Louisville, who only been defeated once in three rounds and a great match is predicted.

Red Dugan, the Chattanooga wrestler, who has been bowing over all opponents through Tennessee and Carolina, will meet a grappler suitable for his style in Joe Wolf, the rough Chicago wrestler.

There will be more ringside seats added to this arena in order to accommodate the big crowds who have been attending.

Down the Alleys

The Trinity Methodist team, leaders in the final round of bowling in the Southern States, will meet the most formidable competition in the form of the St. Mark's Methodist five this evening, in the semi-final contest of the league.

Warren Hill's class plays Westminster Presbyterian: Peachtree Christian comes up with Cascade Avenue Methodist. Cascade Avenue and Warren Hill are but a single game behind the leaders. The games begin at 8 o'clock to-night.

If the number of new women bowlers that are visiting the alleys during the past few weeks are an example of the increasing interest that prevails, more women's leagues than have ever been held herebefore will be organized at Bick's this coming season.

THE BIG SIX

After yielding his place to Buddy Myer for one day, Joe Vosniak hopped back into the American League batting lead and third place in the Big Six yesterday as he rapped Yankee pitching for a pair of timely hits in three "official" times at bat and lifted his average two points to .348. Myer hit one out of three and just held off .347 mark. Doc Cramer picked up one point and so did Joe Medwick but there was little activity down the hitting line for the leaders despite the day's array of doubleheaders.

Miss Elizabeth Spalding Named Maid of Honor for Reunion

By Sally Forth.

THE stirring strains of "Dixie" naturally sound a responsive chord in the feelings of pretty, dark-eyed, dark-haired Elizabeth Spalding. It is emphasized today, for this lovely fifth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Spalding has received her official appointment as maid-of-honor-in-chief on the staff of the Sons of Confederate Veterans when they assemble for their annual reunion to be held this year in Amarillo, Texas, on September 3-6.

Sally can think of no lovelier person to carry the honor of maid-in-chief than Elizabeth, for in addition to her own charming self, her appointment comes by right of heritage as the maternal great-granddaughter of Georgia's famous war Governor, Joseph E. Brown. She bears the name of her maternal great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Brown, and the lovely likeness of Elizabeth is pictured posed beneath the exquisite portrait of Mrs. Brown which hangs in the living room of the Spalding home on Rivers road.

In addition to Elizabeth, Colonial Hopkin's staff will be composed of a matron, chaperon, sponsor and three maids of honor who include representatives of well-known southern families.

Elizabeth leaves here Sunday morning, September 1, and the trip will mark her first as an official guest at one of the reunions which each year is lessened by the thinning ranks of the gray.

THE baby ranks of society were augmented yesterday in the arrival of Sarah Frances Grant at Piedmont hospital. She is the infant daughter of those popular and attractive Atlantans, Josephine and John W. Grant Jr., and is the namesake of her beloved paternal great-aunt, Mrs. John M. Slaton. She will be called "Sallie" the endearing name by which Mrs. Slaton is known to her intimates.

Blessed with such adoring grandparents as Mr. and Mrs. George W. Connors and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant Sr., the baby is certain to tread a rosy pathway. Her great aunt is in raptures over her namesake, and was en route to the hospital to visit little Sallie, shortly after being notified of her arrival upon this mundane sphere.

Sallie's mother, the former lovely Josephine Connors, of Birmingham, belongs to the Junior League, and the infant is a sister of Lillian Lorraine Grant and John W. Grant III, who are to be congratulated upon their brand-new sister.

ROSALIND WARE, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Ware, has been sufficiently lucky to escape the summer strength of "Old Sol." She writes from Colorado that she is staying where snow covers the ground and a log fire burns day and night.

Rosalind, with Mr. and Mrs. S. Robinson and their daughter, Mary Louise, of Plant City, Fla., is touring Canada and the far west. They expect to visit Lake Louise, Yellowstone National park, the Grand Canyon, Hollywood, and many other interesting places in that region.

Rosalind and her friends are anticipating their visit to Hollywood, as they have been so fortunate as to be given passes into the Hollywood studios, and will have the interesting experience of watching the famous movie stars make their new pictures. They will be away several more weeks, and are planning to return to Atlanta via the southern route.

FEATHER IN HER HAT

By Julie Anne Moore

had a bad case of weeps the minute Fuhrman left, was it?" he asked, sardonically.

"Selma...!" The word was off Rita's lips before she realized she had spoken. "Oh, I didn't mean that," she said, quickly. "I just—"

But Carl saved her from her embarrassment by saying, "Fuhrman was unquestionably pointing the finger at Selma. The interesting question is, why did he?" He turned to Bill. "What I was about to tell you may answer the question. . . . The senator has given Fuhrman his notice."

"You're not serious?" Bill said, incredulously.

"That's why the senator sent for me this afternoon," Carl explained. "I had to do the dirty work—give Fuhrman his notice, escort him off the estate, and advise him to stay away from all members of the family. Runbrecker."

"They had a row, then?" This was Bill Hudson, the newspaperman now—hot after a story he knew he would never publish.

Carl hesitated a moment, then: "In confidence—yes." He and Deanne had a brief talk. "But what should Fuhrman call Mollie and report his own murder?" Ann wanted to know.

"I don't know that he did," Carl replied, with caution. "But for the sake of the story, I'll say he did."

"No," said Bill. "I never heard of it, and I'd have been as happy if I'd never had it. Where did that happen—here in Washington?"

"Oh, no," Carl chuckled. "Bombay, India. About 50 years ago. But it was discussed in almost every book ever written on criminology. You must have heard of it."

"Never," said Bill, firmly, "and the less you know about the gruesome case of Dr. Chizzelle, the better." He turned to Ann. Ann suddenly swang around again: "Unless you can suggest the Chizzelle in the present case."

"Well—," said Carl, unexpectedly, and there was more in his voice than the brashness of the moment. "I have been in almost every corner of the world, and where they would be murdered—and then proceeded to murder them?"

"No," said Bill. "I never heard of it, and I'd have been as happy if I'd never had it. Where did that happen—here in Washington?"

Ann stared at Carl with parted lips, but Bill seemed unimpressed. He didn't even flinch when Carl took off his hat and moved toward the door. Bill lifted her to his shoulder. "Lee, Lee, Lee," he said, smiling. "It's time to powder their pretty noses."

When Rita came back from the door, she found Ann leaning in the bedroom doorway, staring at the floor.

"By the way," Rita said, "I gave Carl a song and dance about the importance of a man."

"Ann, with it," Ann said.

But before Carl could speak, Bill drawled: "I'm a Shepperson Wells." implications meant anything, he suspects a woman, who was in this room last night.

Ann remembered Fuhrman's two pointed questions to Mollie, and she made a hasty mental check of the women in the room at the time. He had not included the two girls he had never seen before, certainly. And that left Mollie and Selma Runbrecker. She asked Bill in all innocence: "Do you suppose he meant Mollie?"

Bill snorted. "It wasn't Mollie who

IN AFRICA WITH LIVINGSTONE

Leaving Zanzibar and the coast of Africa in March, Stanley and his party made their way inland. By asking the natives whether they had seen Livingstone and if so, in what direction the explorer had gone, they were able to follow his trail; but the route was not direct, and seven and a half months were spent before they reached Ujiji, a village on the eastern side of Lake Tanganyika.

Livingstone had been in Ujiji, and he had gone beyond it; but he had returned to the place shortly before Stanley got there. In telling of the event, Livingstone wrote:

When Livingstone was asked to go back with Stanley to "civilization," he replied that his work was not yet done, and that he wanted to do more things than the geography of Africa before leaving. Sianney, Stanley had farewelled and returned to Zanzibar. From there he went to Great Britain, taking with him some of the "journals" in which Livingstone had made record of his travels. These were never published.

Livingstone's party explored the northern part of Lake Tanganyika. Stanley was ill with fever for a time; he enjoyed being with the great explorer, and learning more about the interior of Africa.

Miss Landers Weds Mr. McRae At Church Ceremony in Marietta

MARIETTA, Ga., Aug. 14.—A wedding of unusual beauty and content in the social interest of friends in Georgia was that of Miss Linnie Lou Landers and Wesley McRae, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church in Marietta, in the presence of a fashionable assemblage of relatives and friends. Rev. George Brown, minister of the church, performed the ceremony.

From the choir loft maidenheads formed a green background for the sunken garden centered by a fountain. Eight candelabra were placed between with floor baskets holding white gladiolas and dahlias silhouetted.

The platform was covered with a white lace, the piano a yellow lace, the organ a white satin suit tailor made, with a double-breasted effect and carried the ring on a satin pillow.

Lovely Bride.

The lovely blonde bride entered with her brother, Newton Landers, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was of duchess satin, fashioned with a high neckline and long, tight sleeves, which were buttoned cuff-length and pointed over the hand. A lace cap was fitted close to her head and caught the back with a circlet of orange blossoms and greenery. The lace within the lace cap, which fitted close to the head with sprays of orange blossoms. Her train was formed by the skirt of her gown, which extended in the back and fashioned with a train-line finish.

Mrs. Newton Landers, mother of the bride, was given in navy blue chiffon with a yoke of lace. Her hat was of blue felt, and she wore a bouquet of gardenias. Mrs. T. E. Latimer, mother of the groom, wore a dress of powder blue lace. Her hat and accessories were pink and her flowers were pink roses.

Miss Odene Landers, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and wore a gown of pink silk lace, made in train and featuring mouse-line de soie cap bordered with lace that was to the waistline in the neck, the neckline in front being finished with a pointed tailor-made collar. The waist was trimmed in small buttons, and a turquoise velvet sash completed her gown. She wore a pink picture hat, trimmed in turquoise velvet and miniature pink flowers, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium tied with pink and blue ribbon.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHAFFIELD
President of several interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name will be omitted in writing. Address: Mrs. Caroline Chaffield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR Miss Chaffield: I read the letter signed "Love-Sick" in which your correspondent complained that he was fed up on his wife's affection, complained that he couldn't smoke, read, or eat in peace because he was always being tormented with his wife's kisses and words of love. I know of a similar case and know the sequel. Perhaps your readers may be interested in it. Twenty-five years ago a dear friend of mine married a likeable chap whom she was very proud of. He was literally her all. After her two sons were born her husband continued to be the axis of her life. She talked about him all the time and her friends knew him well. She was tormented with hearing about him. Once in the presence of a group of friends, he spoke up, told her he was sick and tired of her kisses, embraces and endearing words. She was a very sensitive woman and from that day she began to suspect her husband of infidelity. She was a bouquet of Bridal roses and delphinium. Adrian Beam, of Detroit, served as best man for Dr. Beam.

The radiantly beautiful bride was given in white satin. The yoke and long sleeves were fashioned of real lace, which fitted close to the head with sprays of orange blossoms. Her train was formed by the skirt of her gown, which extended in the back and fashioned with a train-line finish.

Mrs. Newton Landers, mother of the bride, was given in navy blue chiffon with a yoke of lace. Her hat was of blue felt, and she wore a bouquet of gardenias. Mrs. T. E. Latimer, mother of the groom, wore a dress of powder blue lace. Her hat and accessories were pink and her flowers were pink roses.

Miss Odene Landers, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and wore a gown of pink silk lace, made in train and featuring mouse-line de soie cap bordered with lace that was to the waistline in the neck, the neckline in front being finished with a pointed tailor-made collar.

The waist was trimmed in small buttons, and a turquoise velvet sash completed her gown. She wore a pink picture hat, trimmed in turquoise velvet and miniature pink flowers, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium tied with pink and blue ribbon.

Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Beam departed on their honeymoon, after which they will reside in an apartment on Cherokee street. The bride chose for traveling a brown, tucked chiffon ensemble with a yellow chiffon collar and cuffs. Her hat was brown felt and her shoes were brown suede, and she wore yellow roses.

He married the "Ice-berg" he wanted.

I often met him and he would say to me: "I am in Paradise. She loves me, or leaves me alone, as I wish." She was a cold, calculating, mercenary creature who made him happy for a few years. Then he became helpless. She walked out on him, taking the bank book with her. Thereafter, her only communication with him was through her attorneys, relatives to her divorce. He has been for years a patient in the hospital for incurables. His first wife never remarried and is a happy grandmother with her family.

I visited him recently in the hospital and sat for two hours with this poor wreck of a man. All he could talk about was his "precious wife." He had a job, but she was his master, asking her to come to him and bring the children, but received no answer. He pleaded with me to write and urge her to come. I didn't dare. The boys, now grown men with families, said they didn't care to see him. The grandchildren didn't know him. His name had never been mentioned in their homes. His ex-wife thought it better for matters to stand as they were.

HUSBAND'S SECRETARY SLAIN BY NEW YORKER

Woman, 35, Enraged by Mate's Avowal of Love for 23-Year-Old Girl.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(P)—Enraged by her husband's avowals of love for his pretty blonde secretary, Mrs. Etta Reisman, 35, shot and killed the girl, early today, and was arrested on a charge of murder.

The shooting occurred in the driveway of the Reisman home in the Beechwood section of Queens while the husband, prosperous operator of a chain of beauty shops, and his 22-year-old daughter by a previous marriage, looked on.

Miss Virginia Seigh, 23, the secretary, who had lived with the couple for seven years, died almost immediately from the effects of a bullet wound to the breast. Miss Reisman's daughter, Annette, was wounded in the hand when she attempted to seize the weapon.

Arthur Reisman, 42, informed his wife yesterday that he was in love with his secretary and would pay Mrs. Reisman $30 a week if she would give him a separation.

Early this morning, he drove into the driveway but refused to leave his car. He had been trying to leave his car.

His daughter and Miss Seigh, both clad in pajamas, went out and tried to persuade him to come in. From an open doorway, Mrs. Reisman heard him mutter,

"I love Virginia and Virginia loves me."

Taking her husband's pistol from its holster near the door, she went out and began shooting. One shot struck Miss Seigh, who was wounded. Annette, the three, were sent to the hospital.

The three were sent back into the house and sat down. When police arrived, she was sobbing hysterically.

Hours later, Mrs. Reisman, who married the beauty shop operator 12 years ago and bore him a son, Arthur Jr., now 9, was half-carried into magistrate's court for arraignment on first-degree murder charge.

She was held without bail for a hearing August 21.

PARALYSIS IN VIRGINIA WANING, SAY OFFICIALS

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 14.—(AP)—State Health Department officials today said figures bear out their contention that infantile paralysis is on the wane in Virginia.

Eight more cases were reported today, but this compared to 11 last Wednesday and to a record of 23 on any one day.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 14.—(AP)—Dr. E. Edith MacBride-Dexter, state director of health, warned parents to avoid areas where infantile paralysis is prevalent, but said they have little cause for alarm in Pennsylvania.

In Pennsylvania, she said, the infantile paralysis situation is "encouraging" and "perfectly normal."

GEORGE A. MARTIN DIES IN ALABAMA

Former Atlanta Hardware Man To Be Buried at West View.

George A. Martin, 61, former resident of Atlanta and an associate in the King Hardware Company, died Tuesday night in Sheffield, Ala. He had lived in Atlanta for about 30 years before moving to Sheffield, where he was in the hotel business.

His father was the late Frederick H. Martin, member of a well-known Atlanta family.

Surviving are three brothers, W. H. Martin, Sr., and Charles M. Martin, Jr., of Sheffield, and A. J. Martin, of Florence, Ala.

The body will arrive in Atlanta at 11 o'clock this morning and will be taken to the graveside in West View cemetery, where services will be held with the Rev. Witherspoon Dodge officiating.

All Rumors Are Denied By Ex-Princess Barbara

PARIS, Aug. 14.—(UP)—Countess Kurt Hauenzell von Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton of the Woolworth millions, today denied:

That she is expecting a child.

That she is investigating the will of her former husband, the late Prince Alexis Mdivani.

That she came to Paris to consult her lawyers regarding the Mdivani estate.

That she hopes to recover a Venice palace she gave Mdivani before their marriage ended in Reno.

"I have given that away," was all she would say about the Venice palace.

Parrying all questions involving the Mdivani will, reportedly, bequeathing the late Georgian prince's fortune to her, she said:

"I think it only fair Alex's sisters should be the beneficiaries of his estate."

TEST' OF DEAL POLICIES IS POSTPONED IN OHIO

Davey Refuses To Call Election Now To Name Truxax Successor.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Governor Martin L. Davey declined today to sanction an immediate test of the New Deal in Ohio.

He announced in Washington, where he conferred with President Roosevelt, that he would not at this time call a special election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman-at-Large Charles B. Truxax, Democrat. He said, however, he planned to call a special election in connection with the state-wide primary next May.

George H. Bender, of Cleveland, defeated republican candidate for congressman-at-large in the 1934 election, asserted Governor Davey used "the argument of whether to call the special election as a club, over the College of the Exposition Cotton Company.

He charged Davey's visit to the President was an "effort to shake down the administration."

His Washington announcement came only a few hours after a Columbus state senator called out in the state senate to postpone the election to call the election.

Bender had said he would file such a suit if the Governor failed to act by August 20.

The taxpayer, Harry Armstrong, went to Sandusky and obtained from Supreme Court Justice H. W. Williams an alternative way to compel the Governor to issue by 10 a.m. August 20 a call for the special election or show cause why he did not do so.

Judge Williams indicated the court would hear the case in the near future. The supreme court is now in session, however.

After conferring with the President, the Governor announced his proposed state-wide building program, estimated to cost between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, had received presidential approval. He asserted the question of special election was not discussed.

FASCISTI SPEED TO AID OF FLOOD-MAROONED

ALSSANDRIA, Italy, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Fascist blackshirts troops and regular army soldiers sloshed through 43 square miles of tragic mud tonight, fighting a desperate battle to relieve hundreds of inhabitants marooned by the Lake Orsogna flood.

Officials estimated 250 persons were killed when the powerhouse dam near Orvad burst. Many of the bodies have not yet been recovered.

The 15,000,000 cubic meters of water surged behind the dam wreaked damage nearly $25,000,000 worth of damage to buildings and crops.
